

Michael Davis, DC is a graduate of Life University in 2004. He practiced in Georgia for two years before obtaining his Iowa chiropractic license and moving to Iowa. He was certified as a National Health Educators Personal Trainer and Fitness Nutritionist in 2009. He has taught advanced anatomy, physiology and exercise classes at Grand View University and currently teaches at Des Moines Area Community College. After working as an associate doctor at FerezyClinic of Neurology, he began Firm Foundation Chiropractic, where he currently practices in Windsor Heights, Iowa.

Erin Ducharme, MD is a Board Certified dermatologist and founder of Ducharme Dermatology, Inc. She is currently President of the Iowa Dermatological Society. An Iowa native, Dr. Ducharme graduated from Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons in 2008. She went on to complete her internship at New York University and her residency at Texas A&M. Prior to opening Ducharme Dermatology, Inc., Dr. Ducharme established a successful dermatology practice at a large multi-specialty clinic in West Des Moines, IA and served as the Head Dermatologist at the VA in Des Moines, IA. Dr. Ducharme grew up in Southern Iowa and currently lives in Clive with her husband and five children. While Dr. Ducharme offers a full range of dermatologic treatments, her primary professional interests include skin cancer, Mohs surgery, psoriasis, and eczema.

Joseph S. Ferezy, DC is a graduate of Northwestern College of Chiropractic (NWCC). He completed his residency at NWCC, where he later served as an Assistant Professor. Dr. Ferezy is a Fellow of the International Academy of Chiropractic Neurology, an award winning scientific paper author, and editor of a chiropractic textbook, "The Chiropractic Neurological Examination". Dr. Ferezy lectures extensively, primarily offering continuing education in neurology. He is the current President of the International Academy of Chiropractic Neurology and Executive Director of the International Board of Chiropractic Specialties.

Marc E. Hines, MD - Dr. Hines is in native of Ottumwa Iowa. He received his medical (MD) degree from Baylor College of Medicine in Houston Texas, where he graduated with honors and where he also later served as Chief Resident at Baylor College of Medicine Affiliated Hospitals. He is a board certified in neurology, pain management, and headache medicine. Dr. Hines has numerous publications and participates regularly in clinical research. He has given dozens of professional education presentations, many to osteopathic students, and he has won multiple awards for his work and participation in a wide variety of professional organizations. Dr. Hines has previously worked shoulder to shoulder with doctors of chiropractic for over 7 years in an interdisciplinary clinic with Dr. Joseph S. Ferezy, Dr. Ronald Evans, and others. He has an understanding of what he can do, as well as an open mind as to what the chiropractic physician can do, and he always incorporates what he believes is in the best interest of the patient. Dr. Hines is well read, well rounded, and his wealth of information and experience, along with his affable personality and presentation style, make am a true delight to listen to. He currently is a provider with the Mercy One Waterloo Neurology in Waterloo Iowa.

Todd Peterson, DO is a native of Des Moines and he completed his undergraduate education at Bethel University and medical education at Des Moines University. He did his residency at Michigan State University's St. John Providence Health, where he became chief resident. He is completed his Fellowship in Adult Reconstruction at Southern Illinois University, Springfield, IL. Dr. Peterson specializes in joint replacements, sports medicine, and orthopaedic trauma. He was trained in multiple approaches to the hip, including Anterior Approach Total Hip Arthroplasty. He has also been trained in robotic hip and knee replacement. His research interests include operating room efficiency, patient safety, infection control, and low cost medical care.

Dawn Schissel, MD currently practices medicine in the area of Family Practice at Jordan Creek Family Medicine located at the Plaza at Jordan Creek. Dr. Schissel's undergraduate degree and Medical School degree were obtained at the University of Minnesota. Her residency was done at Broadlawns Medical Center in Des Moines. Formerly she was a Staff Physician at Broadlawns Medical Center for 14 years. Dr. Schissel is a member of the board of the Iowa Academy of Family Physicians and has won teaching awards from Des Moines University and Broadlawns Family Practice Residency Program. Her primary Professional Interests are Women's Health and Preventative Medicine.

Gregory Yanish, MD received his medical degree from St. George's University School of Medicine and moved on to complete his general surgery residency at St. Joseph's Mercy Oakland Medical Center in Pontiac, MI. His Orthopedic Hand Fellowship was completed at the University of Massachusetts in Worchester, MA. He is Board Certified in general surgery and Surgery of the Hand. He is also a Fellow of the American College of Surgeons. Dr. Yanish also specializes in minimally invasive surgery including endoscopic carpal tunnel release, endoscopic cubital tunnel release, Tenex fast procedure for tennis elbow and PRP injections. Professional affiliations include: American Medical Association, American College of Surgeons.